Expanding To Serve You Better

PeoplesChoice Credit Union had been working out of the same headquarters building in Biddeford since 1963. With the credit union and employee count growing every year since it was formed, this could only mean that their existing offices were bursting at the seams. There were people working in every nook and cranny, including the basement! That's when the board of directors decided it was time to build a new operations center and branch location.

President Luke Labbe wanted to create a building that was state-of-the-art and would carry the credit union well into the future. Other items on his wish list were a building that was unique, classical and a handsome addition to the community.

A large retaining wall was needed and it was decided to tier it and create areas for extensive landscaping that softened the wall and made for a beautiful approach to the building. Other design considerations were the incorporation of energy efficient construction, a super high efficient HVAC system, a state-of-the-art electrical system

Employee of the Year

As most of you know, Bill and Phil choose an Employee of the Year each year. It gives us great pride to announce that Steven McIntyre is this year's recipient.

Steven McIntyre

Steve has been with PM Construction since 1991, starting out as a laborer and working his way up to project superintendent. He has worked tirelessly to improve his skills in construction and people management. With the successful completion of a new 38,000-square-foot Hannaford food and drug store in Alton, N.H., he secured his place as a frontline super with PM Construction.

Congratulations, Steve, and enjoy the vacation trip you're receiving for being Employee of the Year.

with backup power generation, new and highly secure bank systems, a community room for functions, a computer training classroom and a large saltwater fish tank in the lobby for everyone to enjoy.

Having a custom design brought with it opportunities to take advantage of the many years of experience possessed by project manager George Laplume and project superintendent Charlie Baillargeon. They worked hand-in-hand with Luke to ensure that the credit union's needs were met. The project produced a stylish and attractive complement to the neighborhood.

PM Construction takes great satisfaction in providing service to all its clients that exceeds their expectations. We accomplish this by employing outstanding organizational skills and attention to detail that delivers a level of quality not often seen in the industry. It's this attitude that inspires us to be your builder.
